

Everyone needs relational security. What makes you feel secure in your closest relationship? How do you help them feel secure?

Discuss Pastor Joe's question: 'Is the need for unconditional love equal to the need for unconditional respect'?

How do you need others to show you that you are loved? Respected?

The point was stated: How do I get my spouse to meet my need? If you're married is it more necessary (to you) to meet your spouse's needs, or have your needs met by them?

Jesus is referred to as the bridegroom and the church is His bride. How does He meet our needs - as His bride? Are we capable of meeting any needs He may have?

Discuss how this is the foundation and motivation for us meeting others' needs before our own needs are met. In what way is this challenging for you?

What does submission to the Lord look like to you? How would you explain Christ giving Himself up for the church to someone?

'We don't lack ability; we lack motivation'. How is this true in your relationship?

What is the Holy Spirit leading you to do this week?